

Policies in rights respect and intellectual property Introduction

Thai Union Group Public Company Limited realized the importance of operating under ethics in business so the company will give the rights, respect and intellectual property consistent with ethical business practices.

Policies on rights and respect of intellectual property will be conveyed with policies to do business applying a company code of ethics.

Definition

Intellectual property might be copyrights, patents, trademarks or trade secret. In addition, any information such as inventions, data, innovation, creative ideas, etc.

Policies

1. Do business compliant with law, rules and contractual obligations regarding rights and intellectual property.
2. All administrators and employees to work under the obligation to respect the rights and intellectual property of our company and others. Not to infringe on the copyrights, trademarks, or plagiarize others work for personal gain or company benefit.
3. All sections must keep secrets concerning intellectual property included but not restricted to trade secrets, customers vital data, and trading partners in a guarded manner.

Remark :Any practical details about intellectual property, data and information technology of the company will be clarified in the company code of ethics.